Professor Elon Lindenstrauss

(on the occasion of the Oppenheim Lecture 2017)

About the Distinguished Guest

Professor Elon Lindenstrauss received his bachelor's degree in mathematics and physics, and a master's degree and Ph.D. in mathematics, all at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. He has been a professor at the Hebrew University since 2008. Previously Professor Lindenstrauss was associated with the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton, Stanford University, the Clay Mathematics Institute, and Princeton University.

In 2010, Professor Lindenstrauss was awarded the Fields Medal in Mathematics, regarded as the equivalent of the Nobel Prize in that field, for his achievements in the area of measure rigidity in ergodic theory and their applications to number theory.
